Judge Kills Court Ruling On Plumber

Rubin Reverses Morrisville Blast License Revocation

Bucks County Judge I. Louis Rubin today quashed a previous court ruling which has set aside the revocation of a plumber's license by the Morrisville Board of Health.

Several months ago President Judge Edward G. Biester had issued a writ of Certiorari which ordered a review of the revocation of the license of master plumber Nicholas Pascale, Bristol.

The Board of Health had revoked Pascale's license following a gas explosion which demolished Monti's Cafe in Morrisville. One man was killed in the explosion and a second fatally injured.

Judge Biester issued the Writ on an appeal by Pascale. The judge said at that time that Morrisville's plumbing ordinance was illegal. He also declared that delegation of authority by Morrisville Borough to the Board of Health was illegal and unconstitutional.

Appealed

The Board of Health appealed the issuance of the writ. In its petition the board stated that it appeared the Court of Common Pleas Court had not authority or jurisdiction to issue the writ in this case.

Judge Rubin, acting on the petition today, quashed Judge Biester's writ. He held that the court did not have jurisdiction in the matter. He cited several cases to support his opinion.

He later explained that his action concerns the issuance of the writ only, and does not rule on whether the Board of Health was right or wrong in revoking Pascale's license.

Good Evening!

This is winter?

That's what the calendar says—the very first day of it, as a matter of fact. And we still haven't seen a single, solitary, lonely snowflake.

That's what worries us. Ma Nature, always juggling with compensation, will probably dump a basketful of the white stuff over the countryside some morning and you'll spend a week huddling the drifts.

And here we are—the long, long weekend holiday and already the Yule spirit evident everywhere.

What a shame the kindness, friendliness, generosity and goodwill mellowing man's soul for the nonce isn't a perpetual thing.

Generosity did we say? Hey, if that sort of thing lasted 365 days a year we'd all be perpetually broke. Flat busted, that is.

Two more Trenton churches fired by an arsonist, we see by the paper.

A bizarre situation calling for some immediate and expert police work.

And Governor Leader's bi-partisan committee recommends continuation of the state three-cent sales tax with a broadened base.

That's an idea we'll buy. Don't be critical of this sales tax. Think what you'd be up against if Leader and his crowd had jammed through his proposed wage or income tax measures.

Those who have hobbies rarely go crazy, says a psychiatrist. Maybe not. But what about those who have to live with those who have hobbies?

The fellow who thinks he is a wit is usually half right.

The trouble with a husband who works like a horse is that all he wants to do evenings is hit the hay.

Please be careful with your driving.

P. S.—Only three more days till you know what. You think the kids from two to 92 don't know it?

Young See Santa...

...And The Old

The youngest and oldest children to sit on the knee of Santa Claus at the Mill Street Bristol Business Center were caught by the camera for these two photos. The cameraman failed to get the age and identity of the tiny infant in the top picture. The oldest "child" to visit Santa on Mill Street was Mrs. Lillian Miller, 64, of 2278 Trailer Avenue, Cornwells Heights. Thousands of children, young and old, have greeted Santa at his Bristol headquarters.

Unrest Grows Inside Soviet

Passenger Shaken Up In Mishap

Trenton-Phila. Coach Crossing Span When Hit By Auto

One passenger was shaken-up when a bus collided with a car on Newportville road's notorious one-lane bridge near Bristol Oxford Valley road, 10:30 last night.

A Trenton-Philadelphia company bus was crossing the bridge when a car, driven by William Marnien, 21, of 6636 Tulip street, Philadelphia, bounced off the concrete abutment into the side of the bus.

Marnien told Bristol Township Patrolmen Leonard Stoughton and Andrew Janssen he hit the bridge when he swung to the right to avoid the bus and that the impact threw his car into the bus.

Police identified the bus driver as Paul Heyduke, 39, of Raven Rock road, Stockton, N.J.

A passenger, Philip Yokatan, 48, of 11 Wood road, Indian Creek, Levittown, was taken to Lower Bucks County Hospital. The hospital said he was released after examination disclosed no apparent injuries.

The officers said Marnien was given a summons for failing to yield the right of way.

Two cars were damaged in a rear end crash on Newportville road at the Levittown parkway at 10 p.m. yesterday.

John Arnold, 53, of 831 Washington avenue, Croydon, told Sgt. Ernest Nuskey and Patrolman John Harman, Bristol Township police, that he was making a right turn onto the parkway when he was struck in the rear by a car driven by George Schaffner, 35, of 72 Aster lane, Levittown.

No one was injured in the crash.

Mostly Teenagers

A total of 48 boys and 23 girls, most of them teenagers, will make the trip. All persons taking the orphans into their homes will be notified by telephone when to go to the church to meet the children.

Handel's 'Messiah' Set For Tonight

Before an expected capacity crowd, the Delaware Valley Philharmonic Orchestra tonight at 8:30 o'clock will begin its second Christmas series of performances of Handel's "Messiah" in the Neshaminy High School auditorium.

Another concert will be held Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

The orchestra and its 100-voice chorus first presented Handel's Christmas masterpiece last year under the direction of Conductor Henry Kerr Williams. Because of the overwhelming attendance and popular demand for a repeat performance, it has been made an annual event.

The advance sale of tickets at the Philharmonic Orchestra Association office at 19 South Main street, Yardley, and other locations in Lower Bucks county, has been brisk.

Return

"To the many hundreds of people who witnessed the inspiring presentation of the 'Messiah' last year, there is no need to make an appeal to be there," Paul Comley French, Association president, said today. "They will want to return to repeat the pleasure it gave them. But to those who missed the past performance, I want to point out the opportunity to enjoy a thrilling Christmas experience."

Under Mr. Williams' baton, the orchestra and singers have been devoting their evenings for several weeks to rehearsing for this

Winter's Debut Anything But Cold

Winter made an inauspicious debut in Lower Bucks today. Fog, cloudy skies and spring-like temperatures covered the area and the Weather Bureau sees much of the same for tonight.

Temperatures in the 40's, with cloudy skies and more fog are expected tonight.

Tomorrow will be cloudy and warm with temperatures expected to jump near the 1949 heat record for the day of 61.

Bus Crash Victim Fine

Paul Denis, six-year-old St. Mark's Catholic School pupil who was injured in a school bus accident Wednesday afternoon, was reported "resting comfortably" and in "satisfactory condition" today at Lower Bucks County hospital.

The boy was the most seriously injured of the 16 pupils on the bus which collided with an oil truck and crashed into a tree. The other pupils were all treated at the hospital and released. The Rev. Paul Baird, pastor of St. Mark's Church, Bristol, reported they all had returned to school this morning. He had excused the 16 children from classes yesterday but some attended anyway.

The drivers of the two vehicles were also slightly injured and treated at the hospital. They are: Lloyd Ludwig, of Durham and Trenton roads, near Penn-del, who was operating the oil truck, and Alfred T. Zackowski, 31, of Third avenue, Edgely, the school bus driver.

Two More Fires Bring New Search

Police Believe Another Arsonist On Loose In Area

All available Trenton police were pressed into service this morning to guard area churches and wage a manhunt for an arsonist who was responsible for the second eruption of church fires this week.

Despite swelling public opinion that police were "holding a scapegoat" in view of the two new church fires, Trenton officials were certain they had the right man in accused arsonist Elber Lucas and were hunting a young man in the latest blazes.

The Most Rev. Michael Zaparyniuk of the Holy Trinity Ukrainian Orthodox church chased a youth across the front lawn of his church about 7 o'clock last night, after an alcohol bomb was tossed into the church.

The man scampered into a black car as flames caused minor damage in the church.

Rev. Zaparyniuk gave police the license number of the car, but investigation failed to turn up a registration that jibed. Police were working on the theory that the license might have the right numbers but the wrong letters.

A second car spotted near the scene was also checked out. This proved to belong to a "substantial citizen" police said who had an air-tight alibi.

Vacations Canceled

Guards were put on all churches and police department leaves and vacations were canceled as the city's law enforcement agencies moved into high gear.

Flames were discovered at St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church about the same time the bomb was thrown into Holy Trinity. Both fires were put out quickly, causing only minor damage.

The churches were fired only two days after part-time handyman Lucas pleaded guilty to setting four church fires last Sunday and a $3.5 million blaze last March that destroyed St. Mary's Cathedral with a loss of three lives.

Detectives were staked out at every church to watch for the firebug who may have gotten his ideas from Lucas' arson spree.

Police feel that they have the right man in the first fires in Lucas. "He enacted out the fires for us yesterday and the entire production was too perfect to be rigged," one police official stated. "There's no doubt in my mind that he's our man. Last night's fires might have been set by someone who is jealous of the publicity that Lucas has received."

Mercer County Prosecutor Mario H. Volpe said that he will not be opposed if psychiatrists for the state and defense agree that

The club has set a goal of $600 to supply some 60 underprivileged children in the area with gift certificates redeemable for clothing. The fund now stands at the half way mark with a total of $291. A Levittown physician, who wishes to remain anonymous, gave the drive a shot in the arm with a check for $100. ## Insurance Men Named By Span Unit

The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission appointed two insurance brokers yesterday to handle the agency's insurance at a board meeting in Morrisville.

The bi-state bridge group appointed James C. Jamison of Blairsville, N.J., and Roy S. Hahn, Nazareth, Pa., to represent the commission in insurance matters.

In other action, the span commission approved the $293,412 contract awarded to Bethlehem Steel Corp., Bethlehem, for restoration of the Easton-Phillipsburg bridge, washed away by the 1955 floods.

60-Day Job

The contract calls for a 60-day work completion with a $250 a day penalty for work beyond that period.

The engineering firm of Michael J. Baker, Inc., Rochester, Pa., was retained as the commission's consulting engineers for one month at a salary of $1000.

The Baker firm replaces the J. A. Greiner Co., Baltimore, Md., as consulting engineers. That annual retainer of $12,000 for the Baker firm will save the bridge commission $28,000 annually, Executive Director George L. Feaster said.

$40,000 Fee

The Greiner Co. had been retained at $40,000 annually. A spokesman for the Greiner Co. told commission members that his firm "would not be interested in the job at $12,000 a year."

The commission's chief engineer, Edwin Denzler, said that the present plans for the placement of the Yardley bridge have been completed by the Pennsylvania highway department, but that the plans have not been turned over to him for study and presentation to the commission.

Plans for the replacement of the Point Pleasant-Byron bridge will be presented by New Jersey highway officials at the January meeting of the commission, a spokesman said, and a decision can be made at that time.

Woman Takes Life In Deep Freezer

STEVENS POINT, Wis. —UP— Authorities ruled today that a mother of five children committed suicide by crawling into a deep freezer, closing the lid and freezing to death.

The body of Mrs. Ladislaus Wietrzykowski of near here was discovered Thursday afternoon by her daughter, Lorraine, 13. The girl came home and looked in the freezer when she noticed all of the food had been removed from it and piled on the basement floor.

Authorities said Mrs. Wietrzykowski had been in the freezer about two hours before she was discovered.

Hearing Date Set On Falls Zoning

A recently scheduled zoning change hearing by the Falls Township Board of Supervisors was cancelled and set for Dec. 23 at 8 p.m. in the township building on Yardley avenue, Fallsington.

The hearing was requested by Luria Brothers in order to have a portion of South Pennsylvania avenue adjacent to the steel mill, rezoned in order to begin a scrap metal processing firm.

U. S. Seen Nixing Hungarian Loan

WASHINGTON — UP — American officials today looked with disfavor on the reported plans of Hungary's puppet government to seek a loan from the United States and other Western nations to forestall economic disaster.

They said the United States stands ready to help relieve suffering of the Hungarian people, but it wants no part of any step which would bolster the Russian-imposed regime of Premier Janos Kadar.

Nixon Gives Assurance On Refugees

VIENNA UP — Vice President Richard M. Nixon told the Austrian government today he was sure Congress will admit more Hungarian refugees to the United States and increase U. S. financial aid for other refugees, informed sources reported.

Nixon conferred for more than an hour with Chancellor Julius Raab and other officials and told them he would recommend in his report to President Eisenhower that the United States "sharply increase" the total number of refugees to be admitted above the current 21,500 figure.

Aid Austria

The sources said Nixon also expected to recommend to the President that Congress be asked to appropriate more money to help Austria care for the flood of refugees who have poured across the Iron Curtain since the Hungarian revolt started eight weeks ago.

The Vice President asked for and received a detailed compilation of all expenditures for refugee care Austria has made since last October. The Austrian leaders also told Nixon the maximum number they could keep in Austria without straining the nation's economy to the limit.

However the Austrians refused to divulge any exact figures.

Drivers Will Get 'Holiday' Tickets

Parking tickets issued by the Tullytown police the remainder of this year will entitle the violating motorists to Christmas and New Year's greetings instead of fines.

Police Chief John B. Walterick today printed the new Christmas parking "tickets," with the authorization of Burgess Frederick Rentschler. They will be used in the Levittown Shopping Center.

"You are illegally parked," the ticket reads. "Please be more careful as future violations will result in fines. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Prisoners Of War Exchange Begins

LONDON UP — The Anglo-French - Egyptian exchange of prisoners of war began in Port Said today. It had been held up previously by Egyptian complaints that the Allies allegedly took prisoners out of Egypt.

French hurriedly returned 160 Egyptian prisoners by liner from Cyprus to Port Said today, and six Egyptian officers in Paris were flown back to Egypt.

As a result, a train with 450 British civilians arrived in Port Said from Egyptian internment camps. Egyptian prisoners were being returned south in the exchange.

imposed regime of Premier Janos Kadar.

$400 Million Loan

Reports from Hungary said the Kadar government is preparing to ask the free world for a $400 million loan. They said Hungary is being forced to turn to the West because it has no hopes of getting such a huge sum from the Soviet Union.

Authorities said, however, that the United States is willing to see relief aid go into Hungary as long as it can be put into the hands of people who need it. This aid would be in the form of food, clothing and medical supplies.

Hungarian Relief

President Eisenhower already has allotted $20 million for Hungarian relief, some of which has been spent for emergency supplies.

The United States is reacting much more favorably to the question of financial aid for Poland. A number of government agencies now are studying the matter in preparation for negotiations with the Polish government.

Poland wants a loan to finance machinery, cotton, oils and fats.

Poland Trend

The difference between the two cases is that Poland, though still pro-Soviet, is now following a course somewhat independent of Moscow and the United States wants to encourage this trend.

Hungary, however, is governed by a regime that is hewing to the Moscow line and showing no signs of independence.

Creek Area Plans Slated

The co-operation of several state and federal agencies to improve the Neshaminy Creek watershed was offered by officials Wednesday night at a meeting of the projects committee of the Neshaminy Valley Watershed Association.

The meeting was held in the Bucks County Planning Commission office in Doylestown, with Committee Chairman John T. Carson giving an illustrated talk on the watershed's potential. The talk will soon be given before local organizations to promote interest in the Watershed Association.

The newly-formed group is concerned with the 236-square-mile area that drains into the Neshaminy, 202 square miles of it in Bucks county. Projects were discussed that could be undertaken by local people and organizations, including sportsmen's clubs, civic groups, Scouts and 4-H clubs.

Two Killed, 37 Injured In Derailment Of Train

U.S. Steel Plane Crash Kills Three

TYRONE, Pa. — UP — The president of a West Coast subsidiary of U.S. Steel Corp. and two crewmen were killed Thursday night when a company-owned plane crashed and burned in a fog-bound mountainous area in Central Pennsylvania during a rainstorm.

A U.S. Steel Corp. spokesman in Pittsburgh identified the men aboard the plane as Alden R. Roach, 55, of San Francisco, president of the Columbia-Geneva Steel division, pilot Roy Rollo of Los Angeles, and co-pilot L. T. Williams, of Sunland, Cal.

The bodies were found about 15 yards from the wreckage and were taken to Tyrone by Blair County Deputy Coroner William Crawford.

The air traffic control tower at Greater Pittsburgh Airport said the two-engine Lockheed Lodestar arrived from California at 6:50 p.m. EST, and took off a few minutes after Roach boarded the craft.

The men were en route to New York. The plane crashed at 7:30, about eight miles northwest of Tyrone.

Bulbs Stolen From Trees In Bristol

A rash of bulb thefts from decorated Christmas trees in Bristol has discouraged some borough families from decorating the outside of their homes this season.

Borough police said five or six persons have complained of stolen bulbs.

Mrs. Fleda Asta this morning said she and her husband, John, of 229 Taft street, lost eight bulbs from their outdoor tree in a half-hour last night, while she was shopping to replace a burned-out light.

"Our neighbors are not decorating their tree this Christmas," Mrs. Asta said. "Their bulbs were stolen last year, and other people have told us the same thing."

"I don't know why the bulbs were taken," Mrs. Asta said. "They do not have much value. It's just plain meanness. Already, by discouraging people from decorating, these vandals have made Bristol far less attractive at Christmas time than it used to be."

The Immel's lawyer, Max Meshon, Philadelphia, has told the stricken family that he would lend them $100. "We really appreciate that offer and it will help some, but what are we going to do about the rest of the money?" the couple asked.

"I was hoping to get back on the job by the first of the year," Mr. Immel said, "but I have a muscle spasm in my neck and the doctor won't allow me to return. ## Gulf Cites Lease Action

PITTSBURGH — UP — Gulf Oil Corp. said today it will go to court to recover any oil producing properties, leases, or royalties lost as a result of the theft of its top secret maps.

Gulf said in a statement issued here that while Gulf never had a previous theft of such maps, "other oil companies have had similar experiences and there is legal precedent to establish their ability to regain by court action any losses they may have sustained."

"No large or reputable oil company would touch these maps," a Gulf spokesman said. "It is almost akin to stealing another man's wife. Any operator who might be willing to use them would be suspect."

The pirating and peddling of secret oil survey maps showing prospective oil reserves worth potentially untold millions of dollars came to light Tuesday with the arrest of four men in New York.

Federal authorities here have ordered a special grand jury session, opening Dec. 27, to investigate the pirating of the maps which fell into the hands of underworld characters.

Seeing Levittown

By JIM ORT

Edward Findrick, 37 Gable Hill road, Goldenridge, heard strange noises in his 1955 Chevrolet for two days recently. His daughter, Elaine, agreed with him that the noise sounded like a cat purring. So last night they searched the front and back seats, trunk, and hood, seeking the cause of the noise. Finally, a big, black cat was located in the splash pan (under the motor) and with the help of a neighbor was removed. How the feline got there still remains a mystery. The Findricks are searching for the owner of the animal and if he cannot be located, they will give the animal to anyone who wants him.

Have been informed by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Golub, 118 Upper Orchard drive, that they have a beautiful seven-month-old Collie dog to give away. It seems their daughter, Ellen, age 5, is allergic to the dog's fur. The black, brown, and white dog is very lovable and has been housebroken. The Golubs would like to give "Skipper" to a family for Christmas.

Eight Cars Topple Over Embankment

BELLEVILLE, Ill. — UP — Two persons were killed and 37 injured today when the behind-schedule Illinois Central train Chickasaw was derailed near here and eight cars plunged down a 15-foot embankment.

Mrs. Jennie Covell, 70, of North Platte, Neb., died shortly after being taken to the hospital, and Henry Hudson, 67, of Rosedale, Miss., died about seven hours later.

Ambulances from the surrounding area, including St. Louis, took the injured to St. Elizabeth's Hospital here where 20 remained and 18 were treated and released.

State police blamed the derailment of the 13-car train on the shifting of a new roadbed due to recent rains. The "run around" track, relocated because of construction on a new route for U.S. Highway 40, had a speed limit for trains of 10 miles per hour.

Servicemen Aid Injured

Three servicemen were credited by authorities with aiding the injured. The men were Coast Guard Cadet William Neal, 18, of DeSota, Ill.; Airman Clem Price Jr., 23, of Lockbourne AFB, Ohio, and Donald Hartley of Cairo, Ill., a Navy officer candidate.

They worked for more than three hours inside the jumbled coaches. Heavy fog and occasional drizzle hampered rescue workers in the mire outside the cars.

Two ambulances collided while racing to the wreck and three persons were injured, including Andrew Russell, 53, East St. Louis, who was in serious condition.

DA, State Police Hit Numbers Bank

NORRISTOWN, Pa. — UP — Montgomery County detectives under District Attorney Bernard E. DiJoseph teamed with state police Thursday in a raid on a numbers bank within three blocks of the Norristown police headquarters.

The raid, which netted one suspect, was the latest blow by the district attorney in his campaign against an alleged gambling syndicate in the county which DiJoseph said had an annual income of $3-million.

Legion Aid Planned For Army Pigeons

Man's best friend is a dog.

And the Morrisville American Legion is trying to be a pigeon's best friend.

After years of faithful service, the United States Army disbanded its pigeon messenger corps last week.

All pigeons still in the service are to be put up for sale and distributed throughout the country to various buyers.

District Move

Robert Farkas, commander of Morrisville Sanford-Diletto Post 433, said a motion was approved at the ninth district meeting of the Pennsylvania Department to attempt to have the pigeons placed in the National Zoo in Washington, D.C.

"Many of these pigeons are heroes of World War II. It would be a shame to have them scattered all over the country.

"They are heroes and deserve to be treated as such. It would be a wonderful thing to have them in the zoo together where all the people could see them," Mr. Farkas said.

Even Mules

"We may even think of doing something for the mules which also have been retired from service.

"Mechanization is taking over but it certainly would be nice to remember the good old days," the commander said.

Yardley Home Damaged By Heater Blast

A furnace blast rocked a Yardley home yesterday and sent flames shooting through a basement, forcing Mrs. Anne Volk, her two daughters, and a pet dog and cat to flee the building.

Yardley Fire Chief John Ziaylek said a malfunction in an oil burner caused the blast. He estimated damage to the 12-room house at about $2000.

At Lunch

Mrs. Volk and the children, Doris, 20, and Sue, 13, were having lunch in the dining room directly over the oil burner when the blast occurred in the home at 8 East School lane.

Doris, on vacation from Skidmore College, grabbed the cat. Mrs. Volk called the fire company and then grabbed the dog. They ran out of the house with the younger daughter.

Chief Ziaylek said it took about 20 minutes for about 35 volunteer firemen to put out the flames.

The flames were confined to the basement, with most of the damage to the rafters and ceiling.

The Yardley Chief said the Volk family originally thought the flames had been caused by a washing machine in the basement.

Investigation

Further investigation revealed the true cause of the blaze, the Chief said.

Edward Boss, a volunteer fireman, was overcome by smoke and treated at Mercer hospital in Trenton. He was released shortly after treatment.

Funds Raised For Hospital

More than $200 was collected by Sanford-Diletto Auxiliary, American Legion Post of Morrisville for Christmas use in the veteran's hospital.

The money was raised from the sale of poppies and shared by Perry Point, Coatesville, Valley Forge, Lebanon, Wilkes-Barre and Pittsburgh veteran's hospitals and the Naval Hospital in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Robert Cunningham, president of the auxiliary, announced that used playing cards and jigsaw puzzles will be collected by the post auxiliary.

She said these items are in great demand in the veteran's hospitals.

Secretary Pravda Point

Accurate reporting and undying faith in human nature hit a mild setback yesterday.

A newly-hired secretary for the Delaware River Joint Toll Morrisville Bridge Commission, was taking names and newspapers of reporters on hand to cover the commission meeting.

Everything went smoothly until one reporter gave the name of his paper as "Pravda".

The secretary dutifully took the information without batting a long-lashed eye-lid, copied the information in a round hand on another piece of paper.

'Miss Christmas Lighting' Returns To School Routine

"Miss Christmas Lighting 1956" arrived back in school today amid all the admiration of her classmates and congratulations of friends everywhere.

Miss Peggy Hibbs, a junior at Pennsbury High School, was named "Miss Christmas Lighting 1956" in a very colorful ceremony held Wednesday. The announcement came as a surprise to the smiling and attractive resident of Yardley, who became the first to receive this distinguished title in the Pennsbury area.

Accompanied by her father, Mr. Irvin A. Hibbs, the young

Library Fund Takes Holiday

Fund raising for the Morrisville Free Library has come to a screeching halt until after the holidays. Library spokesmen indicated today.

The Library, run as a public service of the Morrisville Women's Club, is about $100 short of its $3000 goal. Mrs. Coleman P. Morgan, chairman of the drive said.

"We are confident that we will reach our quota as soon as the holidays are over and everybody gets their finances ironed out," Mrs. Morgan said.

Mrs. Paul Taylor, president of the women's club said that contributions can be accepted at anytime.

"We have a contribution box in the library and would certainly be happy to have people fill it. Contributions can also be sent by mail to the Morrisville Free Library," she said.

The Library is located in the Episcopal parish house at East Palmer street and North Pennsylvania avenue.

The library receives $500 from the Common-Council and the rest of the funds are raised through private donation.

Yardley Lions Plan Party

Yardley's community house will be a glad house Sunday afternoon when the Yardley Lions entertain more than 50 children at the organization's Christmas party.

About 20 of the youngsters to be feted will be neighborhood children from poor families who are not able to have such an elaborate Christmas party of their own.

The rest of the children will be the offspring of members of the Lions club.

Entertainment will be provided by local amateur groups and candy and gifts will be distributed by Santa Claus.

Mat Thiel Jr., publicity representative of the club, said that more than 30 members of the organization are expected to attend the party with the neighborhood children.

It was also announced that the Yardley Lions will not meet next Tuesday which is Christmas Day. The next scheduled session of the group will be on Jan. 8.

Nearly four-fifths of the farm and ranch land in Texas is used for range and pasture.

"Miss Christmas Lighting 1956" wearing a corsage of bright red carnations dotted with sprigs of holly, was escorted to the Washington Crossing Inn by motorcade where she was formally presented at a reception and dinner staged by the Optimist Club of Yardley-Makefield in her honor. Mr. William Callahan, chairman, presented the gold crown and white star scepter, symbol of the reign of "Miss Christmas Lighting" during the holiday season to Miss Hibbs.

Contest Outlined

In a brief address before the gathering, President Andrew J. Cochran of the Optimist Club of Yardley-Makefield gave an outline of the Christmas Lighting Contest which will be sponsored by the Optimist Club of Yardley-Makefield on Dec. 27 and 28. The contest is held annually for all residents in the area. Prizes will be awarded this year in each of six divisions by judges Jim Kelly, William McGowan, Wilmont Johnson and Harvy Massie. All proceeds from the contest will go toward five major projects to aid and encourage the youth of the Pennsbury area.

The Optimist Club of Yardley-Makefield has taken a very active part in all community activity, a spokesman said. During

Drying Wash Goes Modern

There was an era when the tiresome business of lugging wet wash and hanging it to dry fitted in perfectly with the way of life of the times.

That was the age when people kept an "ice chest" in the pantry; when their gas water heater had to be lighted whenever someone wanted a bath; and when heavy-duty washboards and wash-boilers were standard equipment in homes.

Today's pattern of living, say gas appliance manufacturers, makes the wash line routine as obsolete as the old gas range "on stilts" or the furnace that whirled dust through the house and went out on the coldest day.

The modern gas clothes dryer rapidly is winning a major place in home modernization. During 1956, manufacturers turned out more than 450,000 gas dryers, either as separate units or in washer-dryer combinations. The 1955 figure was 368,000. Percentage-wise, the gain was one of the biggest for any household appliance.

The gas dryer damp-dries or fluff-dries all kinds of laundry in minutes instead of hours. There is protection from air contamination and from the damage that wind, sun and freezing can do to wet clothes.

Morrisville VFW Prepares Party

With Christmas not yet here, Morrisville's VFW Post 6176 is getting all set for a New Year's Eve party.

Only 40 tickets remain for the limited affair in the post home at 101 Hillcrest avenue.

The committee in charge of the party consists of Wilbur Albright, Walter Koons, Robert Williams, and Robert Wolf. The remaining tickets can be obtained from any member of the group.

Yardley Heirs Give Opinions For Library

More than half of the replies have been received from heirs of the Cadwallader estate—allowing the Yardley library to profit from any condemnation award if the Yardley bridge goes through the library land.

T. Sidney Cadwallader said today that all answers received to his query from the family heirs have been "favorable."

Must Be Library

By the terms of an old family will, the ownership of the library site reverts to the family if the land is not used for a library.

Without written release from the heirs, monies received from a possible condemnation would go to the family. The release will permit the library to use the monies for a possible new building.

Mr. Cadwallader said, "Even if the Bridge Commission approves an alternate site for the bridge, we may go ahead with plans for a new building.

"The present library is over 50 years old and a new library would be desirable, Mr. Cadwallader said.

To Arrange Details

After the releases are obtained, details will be worked out with the library board once the bridge site is settled.

Mr. Cadwallader noted that the earliest family replies came from the people living the longest distance away.

"We have received replies from as far away as Europe and California. Most of those came in the earliest mails.

"I am hoping we can get all the answers by the time the Commission sets a site for the bridge so we can act on it," Mr. Cadwallader said.

The Minnesota Department of Conservation says there are anywhere from 20,000 to 40,000 different species of fishes.

Good News For Bensalem

Bensalem High School will play its first home football game in five years on Saturday, Sept. 21, 1957. The Owls will meet Central Bucks High at 2 p.m., on the new field now under construction behind Bensalem High School.

The last home game for the Owls (not counting "home" games which were played at other fields), was late in 1952 when they stopped Southampton (now Tennynt), 19-6, at Hansel Field. The last home opening game was in 1952 when Bensalem dropped 15-12 decision to Sells-Perk High (now Pennridge.)

The remainder of the Bensalem schedule includes four other home games and four away contests. The schedule follows: Sept. 28: Pennsylvania School for the Deaf; Oct. 12: Tennynt, away; Oct. 19: Delhaas; Oct. 26: Bristol; away; Nov. 2: Council Rock, away (at Neshaminy field); Nov. 9: Morrisville; Nov. 15: Pennsbury, away; and Nov. 28: Neshaminy.

The athletic committee of the Bensalem School Board is going to look into the possibility of getting a temporary baseball diamond in shape on the school property at the rear of the school. . . . Milton Plum's seven pass interceptions in 1956 was tops in the nation, matching a like effort by Ralph Hill, of Utah State.

Middleweight Spider Webb, ranked ninth by Ring Magazine, thinks he should be champ and he says, "I'll be glad to fight any middleweight ranked above me until I get to be champion." . . . You'd never guess who is the leading scorer in the college basketball ranks? . . . Wilt, natch! . . .

Odds 'n Ends

The Brooklyn Dodgers led the National League in fielding but didn't land a man at any position among the individual fielding leaders. . . . Willie Jones, with a .973 mark as a third baseman, was the Phil to make the defensive team. . . .

Bill Russell, the new attraction in the NBA, will make his debut with the Boston Celtics tomorrow in a nationally-televised game with the St. Louis Hawks. . . . On Dec. 27, Russell comes to Philadelphia to take part in a big doubleheader. . . . The Celtics play the Rochester Royals in the opener while the Warriors take on the New York Knickerbockers in the nightcap. . . .

Tony Lavelli, the former Yale basketball star, is touring the world with the Harlem Globetrotters, but he's not playing. . . . Tony is quite a musician and he plays the accordion between halves. . . . The last report located him in Singapore. . . . The Globetrotters will make their final appearance of the season at Convention Hall on Dec. 29. . . . Singapore one week and Philadelphia the next—it's really a small world.

Ortega Returns To Ring Tonight

NEW YORK — UP — Lanky was no fluke. Gaspar Ortega of Mexico will try "I ween beeger tonight," said to prove tonight in a return sets under his belt. "He no knock bout with ex-welterweight champion Tony DeMarco at Madison Square Garden that last month's knock me out. So these time split decision over Boston Tony maybe I knock heem out."

May the blessings of peace and good will that came into the world almost two thousand years ago be yours at Christmastime! Merry Christmas To All!

Bristol To Meet Jenkintown Delhaas, Pennsbury Record Victories

Tall Tigers Stop Alumni Five, 57-52

Delhaas High School's varsity showed the Tiger Alumni a few tricks last night in rolling to a 57-52 triumph. The tall Delhaas varsity, paced by 6-4 George Friedrich, piled up a big lead and then coasted home to victory.

Before the boys took over the floor the girls varsity defeated the graduates, 24-17. It was the first game of the year for the high school girls.

The lanky Friedrich was the top scorer for the Tiger varsity but 5-10 Nick Moran of the class of 1954 gave out a few lessons to the students of Bristol Township.

Moran found the range for eight field goals and dunked in seven foul tosses for a total of 23 points. Fred Yun was next for the alumni five by scoring 10 points.

Friedrich was tops among the 13 players that performed for the varsity. Senior Tom Hill recorded 11 tallies.

Carolyn Gouza hit for five field goals for 10 points for the girls varsity. Elaine Fredricks made seven points for the alumnae team.

Bristol JH Pounds Ewing

Bristol Junior High School's basketball forces pounded visiting Ewing Junior High School, 47-34, yesterday in the season's opener for both schools.

The scoring ability of Angelo Tunis and Bob Sabatini combined with the strong backboard work of six-foot Pete Cimino and 6-2 Jack Wischer paced Bristol. Tunis connected for seven double-deckers for 14 points. Sabatini was close behind with 13 markers.

Bristol, coached by Joe Sagolla, held Ewing to five points at the half. Sagolla said, "Our shooting was off and we only made five of 20 foul attempts."

Bristol completed last year's season with a perfect 12-0 mark to capture the Lower Bucks County Junior High League title. Yesterday's victory makes it 13 games in-a-row for Bristol.

Falcons Rip New Jersey Foe, 65-53

Four Other LBC Teams In Action

By DICK DOUGHERTY
Courier and Times Sports Writer

Bristol High and Jenkintown High schools swing under the spotlight tonight in a battle listed for the Old York Road institution.

Bristol captured the District One, Class B championship last year in the PIAA playoffs and then fell to defeat at the hands of Fountain Hill in a Sectional clash.

Jenkintown knocked off 22 schools in-a-row in winning the Class C, PIAA state championship last year. Both teams have players returning from the title squads which makes the game a match between the best in the Class C against one of the better Class B schools.

Two other Lower Bucks County teams have official tilts tonight. Morrisville High will be the home school against Pennington School of New Jersey and William Tennynt will be host to New Hope-Solebury High School.

"Exhibition" Games
Council Rock and Neshaminy will play "exhibition" games against their respective alumni teams. These affairs will not be counted in regular season records maintained by the Courier and Times sports staff.

All-State Bobby Liberatore and veteran Al Van Wright are Bristol's returnees. Both Liberatore and Van Wright were starters on last year's successful team.

Harold Saxton, Bob Sembrot and Johnny Sabol round out Bristol's starting five. Bristol has posted triumphs over Mount Holly (twice) and Burlington. The Warriors dropped a decision to Bordertown in their last outing.

The Chicago Cubs have won 100 or more National League games during four of their 16 pennant winning campaigns. They last won 100 games in 1935 under manager Charlie Grimm.

Judge Kills Court Ruling On Plumber

Rubin Reverses Morrisville Blast License Revocation

Bucks County Judge I. Louis Rubin today quoted a previous court ruling which has set aside the revocation of a plumber's license by the Morrisville Board of Health.

Several months ago President Judge Edward G. Biester had issued a writ of Certiorari which ordered a review of the revocation of the license of master plumber Nicholas Pascale, Bristol.

The Board of Health had revoked Pascale's license following a gas explosion which demolished Monti's Cafe in Morrisville. One man was killed in the explosion and a second fatally injured.

Judge Biester issued the Writ on an appeal by Pascale. The judge said at that time that Morrisville's plumbing ordinance was illegal. He also declared that delegation of authority by Morrisville Borough to the Board of Health was illegal and unconstitutional.

Appealed

The Board of Health appealed the issuance of the writ. In its petition the board stated that it appeared the Court of Common Pleas Court had not authority or jurisdiction to issue the writ in this case.

Judge Rubin, acting on the petition today, quashed Judge Biester's writ. He held that the court did not have jurisdiction in the matter. He cited several cases to support his opinion.

He later explained that his action concerns the issuance of the writ only, and does not rule on whether the Board of Health was right or wrong in revoking Pascale's license.

Good Evening!

This is winter?

That's what the calendar says—the very first day of it, as a matter of fact. And we still haven't seen a single, solitary, lonely snowflake.

That's what worries us. Ma Nature, always juggling with compensation, will probably dump a basketful of the white stuff over the countryside some morning and you'll spend a week hurdling the drifts.

And here we are—the long, long weekend holiday and already the Yule spirit evident everywhere.

What a shame the kindness, friendliness, generosity and goodwill mellowing man's soul for the nonce isn't a perpetual thing.

Generosity did we say? Hey, if that sort of thing lasted 365 days a year we'd all be perpetually broke. Flat busted, that is.

Two more Trenton churches fired by an arsonist, we see by the paper.

A bizarre situation calling for some immediate and expert police work.

And Governor Leader's bi-partisan committee recommends continuation of the state three-cent sales tax with a broadened base.

That's an idea we'll buy. Don't be critical of this sales tax. Think what you'd be up against if Leader and his crowd had jammed through his proposed wage or income tax measures.

Those who have hobbies rarely go crazy, says a psychiatrist. Maybe not. But what about those who have to live with those who have hobbies?

The fellow who thinks he is a wit is usually half right.

The trouble with a husband who works like a horse is that all he wants to do evenings is hit the hay.

Please be careful with your driving.

P. S.—Only three more days till you know what. You think the kids from two to 92 don't know it?

The youngest and oldest children to sit on the knee of Santa Claus at the Mill Street Bristol Business Center were caught by the camera for these two photos. The cameraman failed to get the age and identity of the tiny infant in the top picture. The oldest "child" to visit Santa on Mill Street was Mrs. Lillian Miller, 64, of 2278 Traylor avenue, Cornwells Heights. Thousands of children, young and old, have greeted Santa at his Bristol headquarters.

Unrest Grows Inside Soviet

STOCKHOLM —UP— New reports of spreading unrest in Russia and its satellite empire reached the West today, and two Baltic refugees said the Soviet was deporting 100,000 students from the Baltic states to crush growing resistance there.

The two men were identified as August Rei, chairman of the Estonian "National Council," and former Lithuanian Minister Ignas Scheinius.

They told newsmen that opposition against Soviet rule in the Baltic is stronger than ever. They said they appeal to the United Nations for aid.

Passenger Shaken Up In Mishap

Trenton-Phila. Coach Colling Span When Hit By Auto

One passenger was shaken-up when a bus collided with a car on Newportville road's notorious one-lane bridge near Bristol Oxford Valley road, 10:30 last night.

A Trenton-Philadelphia company bus was crossing the bridge when a car, driven by William Marnien, 21, of 6636 Tulip street, Philadelphia, bounced off the concrete abutment into the side of the bus.

Marnien told Bristol Township Patrolmen Leonard Stoughton and Andrew Janssen he hit the bridge when he swung to the right to avoid the bus and that the impact threw his car into the bus.

Police identified the bus driver as Paul Heyduke, 39, of Raven Rock road, Stockton, N.J.

A passenger, Philip Yokatan, 48, of 11 nwood road, Indian Creek, Levittown, was taken to Lower Bucks County Hospital. The hospital said he was released after examination disclosed no apparent injuries.

The officers said Marnien was given a summons for failing to yield the right of way.

Two cars were damaged in a rear end crash on Newportville road at the Levittown parkway at 10 p.m. yesterday.

John Arnold, 53, of 831 Washington avenue, Croydon, told Sgt. Ernest Nuskey and Patrolman John Harman, Bristol Township police, that he was making a right turn onto the parkway when he was struck in the rear by a car driven by George Schaffner, 35, of 72 Aster lane, Levittown.

No one was injured in the crash.

Orphans Due In Levittown

Everything is set for the arrival in Levittown tomorrow of 71 children from Scotland School, the American Legion home for orphans.

The youngsters from the school, located near Chambersburg, are expected to arrive about 5 p.m. tomorrow at the Emilie Methodist Church on Emilie-Fallsington road.

Mostly Teenagers
A total of 48 boys and 23 girls, most of them teenagers, will make the trip. All persons taking the orphans into their homes will be notified by telephone when to go to the church to meet the children.

Sunday afternoon a huge party will be held in the Immaculate Conception Church on Oxford Valley road. Highlight of the afternoon will be a show presented by the Coyne Dance studios of Croydon.

The orchestra and its 100-voice chorus first presented Handel's Christmas masterpiece last year

Era Passes Down South

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — UP — A white dime store clerk sat down beside a Negro maid today on a city bus here climaxing the long struggles of Negroes to win equal seating facilities on public buses in the deep South.

Montgomery's year-long bus boycott by Negroes came to an end as the first vehicles moved out on routes through this citadel of racial segregation.

At first Negroes and whites, although riding the same buses, took separate seats. But it was not until the early morning crush of passengers going to work that the city's segregation barriers really crumbled.

Linda Russell, 18-year-old white girl who clerks in a five and ten cent store, got on a crowded bus. Without hesitation she took a seat beside Arsula Henry, Negro domestic servant.

Eyebrows went up all over the vehicle and there was just a moment of tension. Then it passed, and the bus moved on without incident.

Return
"To the many hundreds of people who witnessed the inspiring presentation of the 'Messiah' last year, there is no need to make an appeal to be there," Paul Comley French, Association president, said today. "They will want to return to repeat the pleasure it gave them. But to those who missed the past performance, I want to point out the opportunity to enjoy a thrilling Christmas experience."

Under Mr. Williams' baton, the orchestra and singers have been devoting their evenings for several weeks to rehearsing for this (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Alfred Volpe Is Re-Elected Squad Head

Bus Crash Victim Fine

Paul Denis, six-year-old St. Mark's Catholic School pupil who was injured in a school bus accident Wednesday afternoon, was reported "resting comfortably" and in "satisfactory condition" today at Lower Bucks County hospital.

The boy was the most seriously injured of the 16 pupils on the bus which collided with an oil truck and crashed into a tree when one was being repaired.

The other pupils were all treated at the hospital and released. The Rev. Paul Baird, pastor of St. Mark's Church, Bristol, reported they all had returned to school this morning. He had excused the 16 children from classes yesterday but some attended anyway.

Two More Fires Bring New Search

Police Believe Another Arsonist On Loose In Area

All available Trenton police were pressed into service this morning to guard area churches and wage a manhunt for an arsonist who was responsible for the second eruption of church fires this week.

Despite swelling public opinion that police were "holding a scapegoat" in view of the two new church fires, Trenton officials were certain they had the right man in accused arsonist Elber Lucas and were hunting a young man in the latest blazes.

The Most Rev. Michael Zaparyniuk of the Holy Trinity Ukrainian Orthodox church chased a youth across the front lawn of his church about 7 o'clock last night, after an alcohol bomb was tossed into the church.

The man scampered into a black car as flames caused minor damage in the church.

Rev. Zaparyniuk gave police the license number of the car, but investigation failed to turn up a registration that jibed. Police were working on the theory that the license might have the right numbers but the wrong letters.

A second car spotted near the scene was also checked out. This proved to belong to a "substantial citizen" police said who had an air-tight alibi.

Vacations Canceled
Guards were put on all churches and police department leaves and vacations were canceled as the city's law enforcement agencies moved into high gear.

Flames were discovered at St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church about the same time the bomb was thrown into Holy Trinity. Both fires were put out quickly, causing only minor damage.

The churches were fired only two days after part-time handyman Lucas pleaded guilty to setting four church fires last Sunday and a $3.5 million blaze last March that destroyed St. Mary's Cathedral with a loss of three lives.

Detectives were staked out at every church to watch for the firebug who may have gotten his ideas from Lucas' arson spree.

Police feel that they have the right man in the first fires in Lucas. "He enacted out the fires for us yesterday and the entire production was too perfect to be rigged," one police official stated. "There's no doubt in my mind that he's our man. Last night's fires might have been set by someone who is jealous of the publicity that Lucas has received."

Mercer County Prosecutor Mario H. Volpe said that he will not be opposed if psychiatrists for the state and defense agree that (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Insurance Men Named By Span Unit

The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission appointed two insurance brokers yesterday to handle the agency's insurance at a board meeting in Morrisville.

The bi-state bridge group appointed James C. Jamison of Blairsville, N.J., and Roy S. Hahn, Nazareth, Pa., to represent the commission in insurance matters.

In other action, the span commission approved the $293,412 contract awarded to Bethlehem Steel Corp., Bethlehem, for restoration of the Easton-Phillipsburg bridge, washed away by the 1955 floods.

60-Day Job

The contract calls for a 60-day work completion with a $250 a day penalty for work beyond that period.

The engineering firm of Michael J. Baker, Inc., Rochester, Pa., was retained as the commission's consulting engineers for one month at a salary of $1000.

The Baker firm replaces the J. A. Greiner Co., Baltimore, Md., as consulting engineers. That annual retainer of $12,000 for the Baker firm will save the bridge commission $28,000 annually, Executive Director George L. Feaster said.

$40,000 Fee

The Greiner Co. had been retained at $40,000 annually. A spokesman for the Greiner Co. told commission members that his firm "would not be interested in the job at $12,000 a year."

The commission's chief engineer, Edwin Denzler, said that the present plans for the placement of the Yardley bridge have been completed by the Pennsylvania highway department, but that the plans have not been turned over to him for study and presentation to the commission.

Plans for the replacement of the Point Pleasant-Byron bridge will be presented by New Jersey highway officials at the January meeting of the commission, a spokesman said, and a decision can be made at that time.

Woman Takes Life In Deep Freezer

STEVENS POINT, Wis., —UP— Authorities ruled today that a mother of five children committed suicide by crawling into a deep freezer, closing the lid and freezing to death.

The body of Mrs. Ladislaus Wietrzykowski of near here was discovered Thursday afternoon by her daughter, Lorraine, 13. The girl came home and looked in the freezer when she noticed all of the food had been removed from it and piled on the basement floor.

Authorities said Mrs. Wietrzykowski had been in the freezer about two hours before she was discovered.

Hearing Date Set On Falls Zoning

A recently scheduled zoning change hearing by the Falls Township Board of Supervisors was cancelled and set for Dec. 23 at 8 p.m. in the township building on Yardley avenue, Fallsington.

U. S. Seen Nixing Hungarian Loan

WASHINGTON — UP — American officials today looked with disfavor on the reported plans of Hungary's puppet government to seek a loan from the United States and other Western nations to forestall economic disaster.

They said the United States stands ready to help relieve suffering of the Hungarian people, but it wants no part of any step which would bolster the Russian-

Nixon Gives Assurance On Refugees

VIENNA UP — Vice President Richard M. Nixon told the Austrian government today he was sure Congress will admit more Hungarian refugees to the United States and increase U. S. financial aid for other refugees, informed sources reported.

Nixon conferred for more than an hour with Chancellor Julius Raab and other officials and told them he would recommend in his report to President Eisenhower that the United States "sharply increase" the total number of refugees to be admitted above the current 21,500 figure.

Aid Austria

The sources said Nixon also expected to recommend to the President that Congress be asked to appropriate more money to help Austria care for the flood of refugees who have poured across the Iron Curtain since the Hungarian revolt started eight weeks ago.

The Vice President asked for and received a detailed compilation of all expenditures for refugee care Austria has made since last October. The Austrian leaders also told Nixon the maximum number they could keep in Austria without straining the nation's economy to the limit.

However the Austrians refused to divulge any exact figures.

Drivers Will Get 'Holiday' Tickets

Parking tickets issued by the Tullytown police the remainder of this year will entitle the violating motorists to Christmas and New Year's greetings instead of fines.

Police Chief John B. Walterich today printed the new Christmas parking "tickets," with the authorization of Burgess Frederick Rentschler. They will be used in the Levittown Shopping Center.

"You are illegally parked," the ticket reads. "Please be more careful as future violations will result in fines. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Prisoners Of War Exchange Begins

LONDON UP — The Anglo-French - Egyptian exchange of prisoners of war began in Port Said today. It had been held up previously by Egyptian complaints that the Allies allegedly took prisoners out of Egypt.

French hurriedly returned 160 Egyptian prisoners by liner from Cyprus to Port Said today, and six Egyptian officers in Paris were flown back to Egypt.

As a result, a train with 450 British civilians arrived in Port Said from Egyptian internment camps. Egyptian prisoners were being returned south in the exchange.

imposed regime of Premier Janos Kadar.

$400 Million Loan

Reports from Hungary said the Kadar government is preparing to ask the free world for a $400-million loan. They said Hungary is being forced to turn to the West because it has no hopes of getting such a huge sum from the Soviet Union.

Authorities said, however, that the United States is willing to see relief aid go into Hungary as long as it can be put into the hands of people who need it. This aid would be in the form of food, clothing and medical supplies.

Hungarian Relief

President Eisenhower already has allotted $20 million for Hungarian relief, some of which has been spent for emergency supplies.

The United States is reacting much more favorably to the question of financial aid for Poland. A number of government agencies now are studying the matter in preparation for negotiations with the Polish government.

Poland wants a loan to finance machinery, cotton, oils and fats.

Poland Trend

The difference between the two cases is that Poland, though still pro-Soviet, is now following a course somewhat independent of Moscow and the United States wants to encourage this trend.

Hungary, however, is governed by a regime that is hewing to the Moscow line and showing no signs of independence.

Creek Area Plans Slated

The co-operation of several state and federal agencies to improve the Neshaminy Creek watershed was offered by officials Wednesday night at a meeting of the projects committee of the Neshaminy Valley Watershed Association.

The meeting was held in the Bucks County Planning Commission office in Doylestown, with Committee Chairman John T. Carson giving an illustrated talk on the watershed's potential. The talk will soon be given before local organizations to promote interest in the Watershed Association.

The newly-formed group is concerned with the 236-square-mile area that drains into the Neshaminy, 202 square miles of it in Bucks county. Projects were discussed that could be undertaken by local people and organizations, including sportsmen's clubs, civic groups, Scouts and 4-H clubs.

U.S. Steel Plane Crash Kills Three

TYRONE, Pa. — UP — The president of a West Coast subsidiary of U.S. Steel Corp. and two crewmen were killed Thursday night when a company-owned plane crashed and burned in a fog-bound mountainous area in Central Pennsylvania during a rainstorm.

A U.S. Steel Corp. spokesman in Pittsburgh identified the men aboard the plane as Alden R. Roach, 55, of San Francisco, president of the Columbia-Geneva Steel division, pilot Roy Rollo of Los Angeles, and co-pilot L. T. Williams, of Sunland, Cal.

The bodies were found about 15 yards from the wreckage and were taken to Tyrone by Blair County Deputy Coroner William Crawford.

The air traffic control tower at Greater Pittsburgh Airport said the two-engined Lockheed Lodestar arrived from California at 6:30 p.m. EST, and took off a few minutes after Roach boarded the craft.

The men were en route to New York. The plane crashed at 7:30, about eight miles northwest of Tyrone.

Bulbs Stolen From Trees In Bristol

A rash of bulb thefts from decorated Christmas trees in Bristol has discouraged some borough families from decorating the outside of their homes this season.

Borough police said five or six persons have complained of stolen bulbs.

Mrs. Fleeta Asta this morning said she and her husband, John, of 229 Taft street, lost eight bulbs from their outdoor tree in a half-hour last night, while she was shopping to replace a burned-out light.

"Our neighbors are not decorating their tree this Christmas," Mrs. Asta said. "Their bulbs were stolen last year, and other people have told us the same thing."

"I don't know why the bulbs were taken," Mrs. Asta said. "They do not have much value. It's just plain meanness. Already, by discouraging people from decorating, these vandals have made Bristol far less attractive at Christmas time than it used to be."

Gulf Cites Lease Action

PITTSBURGH — UP — Gulf Oil Corp. said today it will go to court to recover any oil producing properties, leases, or royalties lost as a result of the theft of its top secret maps.

Gulf said in a statement issued here that while Gulf never had a previous theft of such maps, "other oil companies have had similar experiences and there is legal precedent to establish their ability to regain by court action any losses they may have sustained."

"No large or reputable oil company would touch these maps," a Gulf spokesman said. "It is almost akin to stealing another man's wife. Any operator who might be willing to use them would be suspect."

The pirating and peddling of secret oil survey maps showing prospective oil reserves worth potentially untold millions of dollars came to light Tuesday with the arrest of four men in New York.

Federal authorities here have ordered a special grand jury session, opening Dec. 27, to investigate the pirating of the maps which fell into the hands of underworld characters.

Seeing Levittown

By JIM ORT

Edward Findrick, 37 Gable Hill road, Goldenridge, heard strange noises in his 1955 Chevrolet for two days recently. His daughter, Elaine, agreed with him that the noise sounded like a cat purring. So last night they searched the front and back seats, trunk, and hood, seeking the cause of the noise. Finally, a big, black cat was located in the splash pan (under the motor) and with the help of a neighbor was removed. How the feline got there still remains a mystery. The Findricks are searching for the owner of the animal and if he cannot be located, they will give the animal to anyone who wants him.

Have been informed by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Golub, 118 Upper Orchard drive, that they have a beautiful seven-month-old Collie dog to give away. It seems their daughter, Ellen, age 5, is allergic to the dog's fur. The black, brown, and white dog is very lovable and has been housebroken. The Golubs would like to give "Skipper" to a family for Christmas.

A Levittown test pilot, Bernard J. Hughes, 41 Evergreen lane, Elderberry, according to reports, made an impressive showing yesterday in a new air force YC-134 quick take-off transport. The demonstration was staged before military officials at the Stratford Aircraft corporation in Trenton.

Robert McHale, 5 Grapevine road, Goldenridge, a salesman with the Colgate company, today was introduced on the television program, "Strike It Rich." He is one of the company's five top salesmen in the country.

In preparation for his trip Christmas eve, Santa Claus will tour 11 sections of Levittown and Green Lynne.

He will make his tour on a shiny, red fire engine belonging to Levittown Fire Company No. 2, and will be escorted by several aides dressed as clowns.

Fire company officials noted this morning that the truck will circle the drives of the sections with sirens sounding and bells ringing.

The sections to be visited include Magnolia Hill, Holly Hill, Appletree Hill, Red Cedar Hill, Crabtree Hollow, Oaktree Hollow, Goldenridge, Whitewood, Orangewood, Indian Creek, and Blue Ridge.

At a party in the Warren Snyder elementary school auditorium, he had a present for each child. The visit was arranged by Local 130, AFL-CIO United Auto Workers, of Kaiser Metal Products, Inc.

Eight Cars Topple Over Embankment

BELLEVILLE, Ill. — UP — Two persons were killed and 37 injured today when the behind-schedule Illinois Central train Chickasaw was derailed near here and eight cars plunged down a 15-foot embankment.

Mrs. Jennie Covell, 70, of North Platte, Neb., died shortly after being taken to the hospital, and Henry Hudson, 67, of Rosedale, Miss., died about seven hours later.

Ambulances from the surrounding area, including St. Louis, took the injured to St. Elizabeth's Hospital here where 20 remained and 18 were treated and released.

State police blamed the derailment of the 13-car train on the shifting of a new roadbed due to recent rains. The "run around" track, relocated because of construction on a new route for U.S. Highway 40, had a speed limit for trains of 10 miles per hour.

Servicemen Aid Injured

Three servicemen were credited by authorities with aiding the injured. The men were Coast Guard Cadet William Neal, 18, of DeSota, Ill.; Airman Clem Price Jr., 23, of Lockbourne AFB, Ohio, and Donald Hartley of Cairo, Ill., a Navy officer candidate.

They worked for more than three hours inside the jumbled coaches. Heavy fog and occasional drizzle hampered rescue workers in the mire outside the cars.

Two ambulances collided while racing to the wreck and three persons were injured, including Andrew Russell, 53, East St. Louis, who was in serious condition.

The film, which Rabbi Bergman described as "one of the most stirring films ever screened," is near feature length.

Regular services Sabbath morning, which are conducted for the entire congregation by the Confirmation Department, will take place tomorrow at 11 a.m. These morning services are followed by an Oneg Shabbat at which refreshments are served.

Unrest

Their statement was one of an increasing number of reports from behind the Iron Curtain indicating widespread unrest in countries under Communist rule.

Political observers in Moscow predicted today the Soviet Communist Party Central Committee will crack down on students who have taken advantage of the de-Stalinization campaign to be overly-critical.

McDonald Asks Curb On Prices

PITTSBURGH — UP — The president of the United Steelworkers union today asked industry to curb price increases and urged "prompt action" by the federal government to reduce the cost of living.

David J. McDonald issued his statement after the Bureau of Labor statistics announced its latest price index which will result in at least one million USW members receiving pay boosts of 3 cents an hour effective Jan. 1.

"The union regrets the steady rise in the cost of living reflected in the increase in the consumer price index reported today," McDonald said.

DA, State Police Hit Numbers Bank

NORRISTOWN, Pa. — UP — Montgomery County detectives under District Attorney Bernard E. DiJoseph teamed with state police Thursday in a raid on a numbers bank within three blocks of the Norristown police headquarters.

The raid, which netted one suspect, was the latest blow by the district attorney in his campaign against an alleged gambling syndicate in the county which DiJoseph said had an annual income of $3-million.

Legion Aid Planned For Army Pigeons

Man's best friend is a dog.

And the Morrisville American Legion is trying to be a pigeon's best friend.

After years of faithful service, the United States Army disbanded its pigeon messenger corps last week.

All pigeons still in the service are to be put up for sale and distributed throughout the country to various buyers.

District Move

Robert Farkas, commander of Morrisville Sanford-Diletto Post 433, said a motion was approved at the ninth district meeting of the Pennsylvania Department to attempt to have the pigeons placed in the National Zoo in Washington, D.C.

"Many of these pigeons are heroes of World War II. It would be a shame to have them scattered all over the country.

"They are heroes and deserve to be treated as such. It would be a wonderful thing to have them in the zoo together where all the people could see them," Mr. Farkas said.

Even Mules

"We may even think of doing something for the mules which also have been retired from service.

"Mechanization is taking over but it certainly would be nice to remember the good old days," the commander said.

Yardley Home Damaged By Heater Blast

A furnace blast rocked a Yardley home yesterday and sent flames shooting through a basement, forcing Mrs. Anne Volk, her two daughters, and a pet dog and cat to flee the building.

Yardley Fire Chief John Zaylek said a malfunction in an oil burner caused the blast. He estimated damage to the 12-room house at about $2000.

At Lunch

Mrs. Volk and the children, Doris, 20, and Sue, 13, were having lunch in the dining room directly over the oil burner when the blast occurred in the home at 8 East School lane.

Doris, on vacation from Skidmore College, grabbed the cat. Mrs. Volk called the fire company and then grabbed the dog. They ran out of the house with the younger daughter.

Chief Zaylek said it took about 20 minutes for about 35 volunteer firemen to put out the flames.

The flames were confined to the basement, with most of the damage to the rafters and ceiling.

The Yardley Chief said the Volk family originally thought the flames had been caused by a washing machine in the basement.

Investigation

Further investigation revealed the true cause of the blaze, the Chief said.

Edward Boss, a volunteer fireman, was overcome by smoke and treated at Mercer hospital in Trenton. He was released shortly after treatment.

Funds Raised For Hospital

More than $200 was collected by Sanford-Diletto Auxiliary, American Legion Post of Morrisville for Christmas use in the veteran's hospital.

The money was raised from the sale of poppies and shared by Perry Point, Coatesville, Valley Forge, Lebanon, Wilkes-Barre and Pittsburgh veteran's hospitals and the Naval Hospital in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Robert Cunningham, president of the auxiliary, announced that used playing cards and jigsaw puzzles will be collected by the post auxiliary.

She said these items are in great demand in the veteran's hospitals.

Secretary Pravda Point

Accurate reporting and undying faith in human nature hit a mild setback yesterday.

A newly-hired secretary for the Delaware River Joint Toll Morrisville Bridge Commission, was taking names and newspapers of reporters on hand to cover the commission meeting.

Everything went smoothly until one reporter gave the name of his paper as, "Pravda".

The secretary dutifully took the information without batting a long-lashed eye-lid, copied the information in a round hand on another piece of paper.

The announcement came as a surprise to the smiling and attractive resident of Yardley, who became the first to receive this distinguished title in the Pennsbury area.

Accompanied by her father, Mr. Irvin A. Hibbs, the young

Library Fund Takes Holiday

Fund raising for the Morrisville Free Library has come to a screeching halt until after the holidays. Library spokesmen indicated today.

The Library, run as a public service of the Morrisville Women's Club, is about $100 short of its $3000 goal. Mrs. Coleman P. Morgan, chairman of the drive said.

"We are confident that we will reach our quota as soon as the holidays are over and everybody gets their finances ironed out," Mrs. Morgan said.

Mrs. Paul Taylor, president of the women's club said that contributions can be accepted at anytime.

"We have a contribution box in the library and would certainly be happy to have people fill it. Contributions can also be sent by mail to the Morrisville Free Library," she said.

The Library is located in the Episcopal parish house at East Palmer street and North Pennsylvania avenue.

The library receives $500 from the Common-Council and the rest of the funds are raised through private donation.

Yardley Lions Plan Party

Yardley's community house will be a glad house Sunday afternoon when the Yardley Lions entertain more than 50 children at the organization's Christmas party.

About 20 of the youngsters to be feted will be neighborhood children from poor families who are not able to have such an elaborate Christmas party of their own.

The rest of the children will be the offspring of members of the Lions club.

Entertainment will be provided by local amateur groups and candy and gifts will be distributed by Santa Claus.

Mat Thiel Jr., publicity representative of the club, said that more than 30 members of the organization are expected to attend the party with the neighborhood children.

It was also announced that the Yardley Lions will not meet next Tuesday which is Christmas Day. The next scheduled session of the group will be on Jan. 8.

Nearly four-fifths of the farm and ranch land in Texas is used for range and pasture.

"Miss Christmas Lighting 1956" wearing a corsage of bright red carnations dotted with sprigs of holly, was escorted to the Washington Crossing Inn by motorcade where she was formally presented at a reception and dinner staged by the Optimist Club of Yardley-Makefield in her honor.

Mr. William Callahan, chairman, presented the gold crown and white star scepter, symbol of the reign of "Miss Christmas Lighting" during the holiday season to Miss Hibbs.

Contest Outlined

In a brief address before the gathering, President Andrew J. Cochran of the Optimist Club of Yardley-Makefield gave an outline of the Christmas Lighting Contest which will be sponsored by the Optimist Club of Yardley-Makefield on Dec. 27 and 28. The contest is held annually for all residents in the area. Prizes will be awarded this year in each of six divisions by judges Jim Kelly, William McGowan, Wilmont Johnson and Harvey Massie. All proceeds from the contest will go toward five major projects to aid and encourage the youth of the Pennsbury area.

The Optimist Club of Yardley-Makefield has taken a very active part in all community activity, a spokesman said. During

Drying Wash Goes Modern

There was an era when the tiresome business of lugging wet wash and hanging it to dry fitted in perfectly with the way of life of the times.

That was the age when people kept an "ice chest" in the pantry; when their gas water heater had to be lighted whenever someone wanted a bath; and when heavy-duty washboards and wash-boilers were standard equipment in homes.

Today's pattern of living, say gas appliance manufacturers, makes the wash line routine as obsolete as the old gas range "on stilts" or the furnace that whirled dust through the house and went out on the coldest day.

The modern gas clothes dryer rapidly is winning a major place in home modernization. During 1956, manufacturers turned out more than 450,000 gas dryers, either as separate units or in washer-dryer combinations. The 1955 figure was 368,000. Percentage-wise, the gain was one of the biggest for any household appliance.

The gas dryer damp-dries or fluff-dries all kinds of laundry in minutes instead of hours. There is protection from air contamination and from the damage that wind, sun and freezing can do to wet clothes.

Morrisville VFW Prepares Party

With Christmas not yet here, Morrisville's VFW Post 6176 is getting all set for a New Year's Eve party.

Only 40 tickets remain for the limited affair in the post home at 101 Hillcrest avenue. The committee in charge of the party consists of Wilbur Albright, Walter Koons, Robert Williams, and Robert Woolf. The remaining tickets can be obtained from any member of the group.

Yardley Heirs Give Opinions For Library

More than half of the replies have been received from heirs of the Cadwallader estate allowing the Yardley library to profit from any condemnation award if the Yardley bridge goes through the library land.

T. Sidney Cadwallader said today that all answers received to his query from the family heirs have been "favorable."

Must Be Library

By the terms of an old family will, the ownership of the library site reverts to the family if the land is not used for a library.

Without written release from the heirs, monies received from a possible condemnation would go to the family. The release will permit the library to use the monies for a possible new building.

Mr. Cadwallader said, "Even if the Bridge Commission approves an alternate site for the bridge, we may go ahead with plans for a new building."

"The present library is over 50 years old and a new library would be desirable, Mr. Cadwallader said.

To Arrange Details

After the releases are obtained, details will be worked out with the library board once the bridge site is settled.

Mr. Cadwallader noted that the earliest family replies came from the people living the longest distance away.

"We have received replies from as far away as Europe and California. Most of those came in the earliest mails.

"I am hoping we can get all the answers by the time the Commission sets a site for the bridge so we can act on it," Mr. Cadwallader said.

The Minnesota Department of Conservation says there are anywhere from 20,000 to 40,000 different species of fishes.

Good News For Bensalem

Bensalem High School will play its first home football game in five years on Saturday, Sept. 21, 1957. The Owls will meet Central Bucks High at 2 p.m., on the new field now under construction behind Bensalem High School.

The last home game for the Owls (not counting "home" games which were played at other fields), was late in 1952 when they stopped Southampton (now Tennent), 19-6, at Hansel Field. The last home opening game was in 1952 when Bensalem dropped 15-12 decision to Sells-Perk High (now Pennridge.)

The remainder of the Bensalem schedule includes four other home games and four away contests. The schedule follows: Sept. 28: Pennsylvania School for the Deaf; Oct. 12: Tennent, away; Oct. 19: Delhaas; Oct. 26: Bristol, away; Nov. 2: Council Rock, away (at Neshaminy field); Nov. 9: Morrisville; Nov. 15: Pennsbury, away; and Nov. 28: Neshaminy.

The athletic committee of the Bensalem School Board is going to look into the possibility of getting a temporary baseball diamond in shape on the school property at the rear of the school. Milton Plum's seven pass interceptions in 1956 was tops in the nation, matching a like effort by Ralph Hill, of Utah State.

Middleweight Spider Webb, ranked ninth by Ring Magazine, thinks he should be champ and he says, "I'll be glad to fight any middleweight ranked above me until I get to be champion." You'd never guess who is the leading scorer in the college basketball ranks? ... Wilt, natch! ...

Odds 'n Ends

The Brooklyn Dodgers led the National League in fielding but didn't land a man at any position among the individual fielding leaders. Willie Jones, with a .973 mark as a third baseman, was the Phil to make the defensive team.

Bill Russell, the new attraction in the NBA, will make his debut with the Boston Celtics tomorrow in a nationally-televised game with the St. Louis Hawks. On Dec. 27, Russell comes to Philadelphia to take part in a big doubleheader. The Celtics play the Rochester Royals in the opener while the Warriors take on the New York Knickerbockers in the nightcap.

Tony Lavelli, the former Yale basketball star, is touring the world with the Harlem Globetrotters, but he's not playing. Tony is quite a musician and he plays the accordion between halves. The last report located him in Singapore.

The Globetrotters will make their final appearance of the season at Convention Hall on Dec. 29. Singapore one week and Philadelphia the next—it's really a small world.

Ortega Returns To Ring Tonight

NEW YORK — UP — Lanky was no fluke. Gaspar Ortega of Mexico will try "I ween beeger tonight," said to prove tonight in a return Ortega, with three straight up-bout with ex-welterweight champion sets under his belt. "He no knock piony DeMarco at Madison me out las' time — nobody ever Square Garden that last month's knock me out. So these time split decision over Boston Tony maybe I knock heem out."

Delhaas, Pennsbury Record Victories

Tall Tigers Stop Alumni Five, 57-52

Delhaas High School's varsity showed the Tiger Alumni a few tricks last night in rolling to a 57-52 triumph. The tall Delhaas varsity, paced by 6-4 George Friedrich, piled up a big lead and then coasted home to victory.

Before the boys took over the floor the girls varsity defeated the graduates, 24-17. It was the first game of the year for the high school girls.

The lanky Friedrich was the top scorer for the Tiger varsity but 5-10 Nick Moran of the class of 1954 gave out a few lessons to the students of Bristol Township.

Moran found the range for eight field goals and dunked in seven foul tosses for a total of 23 points. Fred Yun was next for the alumni five by scoring 10 points.

Friedrich was tops among the 13 players that performed for the varsity. Senior Tom Hill recorded 11 tallies.

Carolyn Gouza hit for five field goals for 10 points for the girls varsity. Elaine Friedrichs made seven points for the alumnae team.

Bristol JH Pounds Ewing

Bristol Junior High School's basketball forces pounded visiting Ewing Junior High School, 47-34, yesterday in the season's opener for both schools.

The scoring ability of Angelo Tunis and Bob Sabatini combined with the strong backboard work of six-foot Pete Cimino and 6-2 Jack Wischer paced Bristol. Tunis connected for seven double-deckers for 14 points. Sabatini was close behind with 13 markers.

Bristol, coached by Joe Sagolla, held Ewing to five points at the half. Sagolla said, "Our shooting was off and we only made five of 20 foul attempts."

Bristol completed last year's season with a perfect 12-0 mark to capture the Lower Bucks County Junior High League title. Yesterday's victory makes it 13 games in-a-row for Bristol.

GROSSINGER, N. Y. — UP — Marvin Jensen, middleweight challenger Gene Fullmer's manager, predicted today that champion Ray "Sugar" Robinson will be in for a surprise when he meets his charge in a title fight on Jan. 2.

Jensen said six ounce gloves will be used and "Gene knocked out his first 11 opponents using six ounce gloves." Fullmer has been using eight ounce gloves for more than two years.

Falcons Rip New Jersey Foe, 65-53

Pennsbury High School brought to a halt a two-game losing streak last night by defeating host Mount Holly High School, 65-53.

Pennsbury opened its season by beating Abington High in overtime period but since that time it has lost to Ewing, in another overtime session, and Trenton.

The Falcons of coach Don Henry found it easy going in the first period, pulling away to a 15-9 advantage. The next two periods found spirited competition from the Red Devils but Pennsbury outscored Mount Holly by five points in the final period to seal the game.

Hansen Nets 19

Four Pennsbury players hit double figures. Bob "Peaches" Hansen was the leader with 19 points. Jack West and Neils Ludlow each accounted for 14 points. Des Gatti added 10 points for Pennsbury.

Senior John Travis and Joe Turner did most of the scoring for Mount Holly. The boys collected 16 points each. Junior Jim Davidson accounted for 10 Mount Holly markers.

Pennsbury's jayvees rallied for 16 points in the final period to eke out a 40-39 triumph over Mount Holly. Ralph Bryan netted 12 points for Pennsbury. Jerry Squires made 15 points for Mount Holly.

Four Other LBC Teams In Action

By DICK DOUGHERTY
Courier and Times Sports Writer

Bristol High and Jenkintown High schools swing under the spotlight tonight in a battle listed for the Old York Road institution.

Bristol captured the District One, Class B championship last year in the PIAA playoffs and then fell to defeat at the hands of Fountain Hill in a Sectional clash.

Jenkintown knocked off 22 schools in-a-row in winning the Class C, PIAA state championship last year. Both teams have players returning from the title squads which makes the game a match between the best in the Class C against one of the better Class B schools.

Two other Lower Bucks County teams have official tilts tonight. Morrisville High will be the home school against Pennington School of New Jersey and William Tennent will be host to New Hope-Solebury High School.

"Exhibition" Games
Council Rock and Neshaminy will play "exhibition" games against their respective alumni teams. These affairs will not be counted in regular season records maintained by the Courier and Times sports staff.

All-State Bobby Liberatore and veteran Al Van Wright are Bristol's returnees. Both Liberatore and Van Wright were starters on last year's successful team. Harold Saxton, Bob Sembrot and Johnny Sabol round out Bristol's starting five. Bristol has posted triumphs over Mount Holly (twice) and Burlington. The Warriors dropped a decision to Bordentown in their last outing. Manager Charlie Grimm.

The Chicago Cubs have won 100 or more National League games during four of their 16 pennant winning campaigns. They last won 100 games in 1935 under Bordentown in their last outing.
